DETAILED ACTION

Amendment

1. Acknowledgement is made of Amendment filed 16 June 2004.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. James Potthast on 24 August 2004.

IN THE CLAIMS:

Re claim 2: The embossed card package production apparatus of claim 36 1 in which the information stored apart from the card is information used to produce the card.

Re claim 3: The embossed card production system of claim 37 2 in which the automatically determining means compares at least one of (a) embossed information read from the card, (b) magnetically encoded information read from the card with the stored card information.

Below is a proposed set of claims:

1. In an embossed card package production apparatus having means for producing cards, means for automatically inserting the cards into matching card carrying mailing forms, and a memory for storing stored card information apart from the card and the carrying mailing forms, the improvement being a verification system, comprising:

means for automatically determining when a card has been incorrectly prepared by comparing information carried by the card with the information stored apart from the cards and the carrying mailing forms; and means for preventing a card automatically determined to be incorrectly prepared from being inserted into a matching carrier.

2. The embossed card package production apparatus of claim 1 in which the information stored apart from the card is information used to produce the card.

3. The embossed card production system of claim 2 in which the automatically determining means compares at least one of (a) embossed information read from the card, (b) magnetically encoded information read from the card with the stored card information.

4. In an embossed card packaged production apparatus having means for producing cards, means for inserting the cards into matching card carrying mailing forms, and a memory for storing card information apart from the card and the carrying mailing forms, a method of verification, comprising the steps of:

determining when a card has been incorrectly prepared by comparing information carried by the card with the information stored apart from the cards and the carrying mailing forms; and preventing a card automatically determined to be incorrectly prepared from being inserted into a matching carrier.

5. The method of claim 4 including the step of using the information stored apart from the card to produce the card.

Art Unit: 2876

6. The method of claim 5 in which the step of determining includes the step of comparing at least one of (a) the embossed information read from the card and (b) magnetically encoded information read from the card with the stored card information.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-6 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The record of prior art fails to teach an embossed card package production apparatus having means for producing cards, means for automatically inserting the cards into matching card carrying mailing forms, and a memory for storing stored card information apart from the card and the carrying mailing forms, the improvement being a verification system, including means for automatically determining when a card has been incorrectly prepared by comparing information carried by the card with the information stored apart from the cards and the carrying mailing forms; and means for preventing a card automatically determined to be incorrectly prepared from being inserted into a matching carrier.

Hill et al. (US 4,034,210) teaches credit card carriers and methods of manufacture having single sheet, multi-panel carriers for receiving and retaining credit cards during credit card issue and mailing procedures. Cards may be inserted in the carriers manually or by machine, wherein carrier forms are preferably provided in a continuous fan-folded web, and individual carriers are separable therefrom at perforations between subsequent and/or adjacent carriers.

Art Unit: 2876

D'Entremont et al. (US 5,646,388) teaches systems and methods for manufacturing and inspecting documents having information recorded thereon are described that can include a visual inspection cell, a recording unit, and a packaging unit.

However, Hill et al. and D'Entremont et al., fails to teach or fairly suggest means for automatically determining when a card has been incorrectly prepared by comparing information carried by the card with the information stored apart from the cards and the carrying mailing forms; and means for preventing a card automatically determined to be incorrectly prepared from being inserted into a matching carrier.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
